Madison at 14th Apartments

160 14th Street, Oakland | Map ^[1]
Waitlist Currently Closed

Madison @ 14th Apartments targets traditionally underserved populations: homeless foster youth and working families. Designed by Leddy Maytum Stacy Architects, Madison @ 14th was awarded "Best Residential Building" by the American Institute of Architecture. The building also includes 2,600 sq. ft. of retail space. Through a groundbreaking partnership with First Place For Youth, Madison @ 14th provides services programming for young adults leaving the foster care system. Supports include employment and education counseling, physical and mental health workshops, economic literacy classes, transition groups, self-sufficiency skills development, and community building events. Madison @ 14th includes photovoltaic solar panels to provide energy needed for lighting and heating the common areas, community room and social service space.
